

Andromeda Helps Duraco Gain Warehouse Visibility With a Professional Camera System

Duraco Can Now Identify Incidents, Prevent Damage, and Ensure Warehouse Safety

Duraco, a leading adhesive manufacturer and supplier based in Forest Park, IL, was struggling with a lack of visibility into warehouse operations.

After several incidents of damage to pallet racking went unreported by operators, the company turned to Andromeda to implement a safety camera system.

Now, Duraco has the technology it needs to see when accidents occur – and ensure employees are safe.

After we hired Andromeda to put up cameras, operators started reporting damage.

Now we have a better relationship and a safer warehouse.

“ Before the cameras, we had no warehouse visibility.

Being able to see what we were missing is the biggest advantage.

The Challenge:

Duraco's management team noticed a pattern of damaged pallet racking going unreported by forklift drivers. The company needed a way to monitor warehouse traffic and identify when accidents occurred to ensure forklift operation was performed safely.

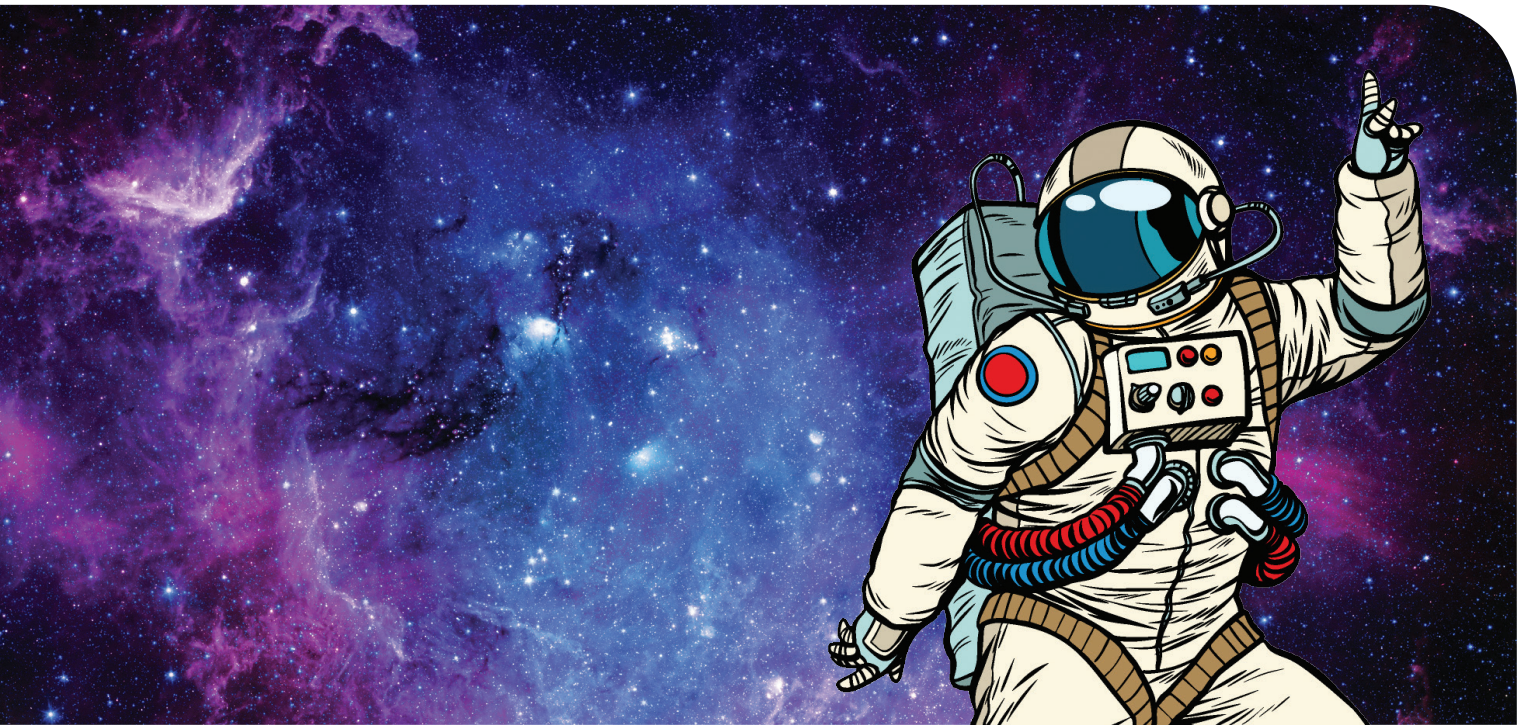

- Duraco wanted to outfit its warehouse with a safety camera system to gain visibility into operations.
- Management worried that unsafe racking practices could lead to damaged equipment and potential injuries.
- The company needed to see how incidents were occurring in order to prevent similar damage in the future.

The Action:

Duraco reached out to Andromeda Technology Solutions for camera services on the recommendation of an industry peer.

- Andromeda conducted a discovery meeting and walk-through of Duraco's warehouse to determine the manufacturer's needs.
- To ensure Duraco received a best-fit solution, Andromeda's engineers designed a custom camera system.
- In addition to installing the security cameras onsite, Andromeda ensured settings were optimal and that Duraco's team knew how to use its new system.

The Results:

Zero major incidents during forklift operations.

No accidents resulting in injuries or hospital bills.

No large claims due to rack or product damage.

Potential savings of thousands in losses.

Full warehouse visibility and peace of mind.

100% improvement in team safety across the board.

“ Thanks to our security cameras, we can easily see how accidents happen and figure out ways to prevent that damage in the future.
